Inclusion Center Mission Statement

Founded in 1927, we are a human relations organization dedicated to eliminating prejudice, bigotry, and discrimination. The Inclusion Center develops inclusive solutions to promote respect for all people through conflict resolution, education, advocacy, and empowerment.

The Inclusion Center assists individuals with crucial leadership concepts such as cultural competency, understanding oppression, prejudice reduction, conflict resolution, and strategic planning. Due to the lack of opportunities for people to meaningfully interact with individuals from diverse backgrounds, our programming begins by bringing ethnically, religiously, and culturally diverse groups together. Through well facilitated, interactive programming we provide a healthy environment to engage in frank dialogue, learn new perspectives, and develop skills to promote inclusion. With eighty years of experience, we assess the needs of each client and create tailored programs to ensure successful outcomes.

WE OPEN MINDS

What is the Inclusion Summit?

Each of us has room to grow in order to better relate to the individuals who make up our diverse communities. Using human relations as a foundation, participants at the Inclusion Summit will be challenged to understand the dynamics of discrimination, and more importantly, recognize the humanity in all of us. At the Inclusion Summit, participants are encouraged to maintain their individuality and values, while still identifying with others who may be different, reminding each of us to be humankind.

What is Human Relations?

Human Relations as a process not a result

Conversations on multiculturalism are often seen as little more than an attempt at Political Correctness or a quick fix to addressing cultural differences. Because of this, we often miss a deeper message that pertains to all of us. The goal is not to learn the buzz words of the day, or for one group to teach another. Human Relations is a process of interaction and engagement that requires self reflection coupled with an authentic desire to understand others and relate to them as human beings.

Topics covered at Inclusion Summit:

- Understanding our personal biases and tracing their history
- Using dialogue and respect in the face of differing opinions
- Creating safe and inclusive spaces
- Building networks and allies
- Understanding human relations as a model of inclusion
- Using process as a framework for improving intergroup relationships

What Inclusion Summit Alumni have to say...

For deep, personal growth, one must be open to alternative solutions. The Inclusion Center offers people a place to have a phenomenal, life-changing personal growth experience. While most professionals feel they know all there is to know about diversity when they arrive, I promise you that participating in this retreat will be unlike anything you've ever experienced before.

-Yolanda Francisco-Nez, Director of Office of Diversity and Human Rights, SLC Mayor's Office

Thank you so much for being a vital conduit of information, resources and support in our community. I often reflect upon my week long Inclusion Summit experience. It was such an incredible opportunity to help me understand who I am, where my thoughts, beliefs, attitudes and assumptions come from ~ it will remain a banner experience for the rest of my life.

Certificate in Human Relations

Participants will receive a Certificate in Human Relations from the Inclusion Center recognizing your completion of the Inclusion Summit.

Professional Development Credit

Each year the Inclusion Summit offers participants a range of professional development credit. Please inquire about the credit we will be offering this year. Previous years have included:

- Lane Change and Re-licensure credit for teachers
- Graduate and Undergraduate credit at the University of Utah and other institutions of higher learning (additional fee may be required)
- Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for social workers

Who should attend Inclusion Summit?

- Educators, administrators, faith group leaders, business professionals, diversity professionals, human resource managers, university students, community advocates, community members and:
- ANY individual who wishes to engage in a process of intense self-reflection and group dialogue on difficult social issues in order to build communities that are inclusive and just.

What is the price of Inclusion Summit?

Students & non-profit employees - $400.00

Business Professionals, University faculty, Government employees & others - $675.00

The tuition costs include:

- Round trip transportation (chartered bus to/from location)
- Programs, speakers, insurance
- Three catered meals daily
- Lodging, facility fees, t-shirt, group photo
- Materials and so much more...

Financial Aid

The Inclusion Center does its best to turn no one away based on tuition costs. To do so, we write grants and offer scholarships to participants as needed. However, we are not always able to guarantee these scholarships, so participants are encouraged to earn as much of the registration fee as possible.

A special thank you to the many foundations, corporations and individuals for contributing to Inclusion Center's Adult Programming.

GIVING • SERVING • LEADING

Prejudice affects us all.

Whether it's intentional or not, most of us have felt the impact of discrimination in our lives and are aware of the effects it has on our community. Moreover, each of us harbors individual biases. If we allow them to go unchecked, it's easy to create systems that grant access to select members of our community and deny it to others.

The Inclusion Center assists individuals with crucial leadership concepts such as cultural competency, understanding oppression, prejudice reduction, conflict resolution, and strategic planning. Due to the lack of opportunities for people to meaningfully interact with individuals from diverse backgrounds, our programming begins by bringing ethnically, religiously, and culturally diverse groups together. Through well-facilitated, interactive programming we provide a healthy environment to engage in frank dialogue, learn new perspectives, and develop skills to promote inclusion. With eighty years of experience, we assess the needs of each client and create tailored programs to ensure successful outcomes.

CONSENT AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I understand that my participation in an Inclusion Center for Community and Justice's (hereinafter "Inclusion Center") event or program (hereinafter "Event") exposes me to risks inherent in retreats and wilderness events. I hereby acknowledge that I am voluntarily participating in this Event and agree to assume any such risks.

I understand the Event is an intensive human relations program that deals with mature subject matters. I understand that workshop topics may include values clarification, stereotypes, prejudice, interpersonal communication, racial identity, racism, sexism, sexual orientation, classism, family issues, institutional and personal power, and more. Throughout the week, participants may experience confusion, anger, joy, sadness, frustration, hope and more as they learn. I assure that I am capable of handling the subject matter and emotional nature of this program.

In consideration for being permitted to participate in the Event, I hereby agree that I shall hold harmless the Inclusion Center and/or its board members, employees, agents, licensees, or volunteers, from any and all claims, demands, actions, or suits arising out of or in connection with my participation in Event, including those claims which may arise from the negligence of the Inclusion Center, its board of trustees; and/or its employees, agents, licensees or volunteers.

The health history is correct and complete as far as I know, and the person herein described is capable of engaging in program activities, except as noted. If my medical information should change prior to the program, I will notify the Inclusion Center of any new conditions, medications, limitations, etc.
